

AN ENTERPRISING FIRM.

The J. T. Day Grocery Company Will Erect a Four Story Building.

When some time ago J. Taylor Day determined to establish a wholesale grocery in this city it was somewhat in the nature of an experiment. It has been a complete success and he is now in Winchester to stay. The buildings formerly occupied by the Winchester Dining Co., are totally inadequate in size for the business and the bulk of the goods must be stored in warehouses elsewhere. Since the firm has concluded to remain in Winchester they have concluded to build suitable quarters, and plans for a new building are being prepared. The edifice will be of brick, four stories high, and will be situated immediately back of the present building. It will extend from one railroad to the other, a distance of ninety-one feet, and will be forty feet deep. It will be provided with all modern appliances and will be a handsome structure. Together with the old building it will have a total front on the K. C. road of 125 feet and 128 feet on the C. and O.

The building of this will give employment to a number of our workmen and will be of much benefit to our city in other respects. The building will be ready for occupation about the first of the year.—Winchester Democrat.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Ezel Evolutions.

Mrs. Rebecca Ragin and son, from Montgomery county, are visiting in town. W. B. Lykins, another strong advocate of the railroad measure, was in town Monday.

Jeff D. Cox and family, who moved to Kansas about four years ago, returned last week.

A. T. Pieratt is offering 25c. for the largest and best ear of corn, and the farmers are bringing in some fine ones.

Miss Clara Pieratt is teaching one of the best schools ever taught at this place. She makes the big ones "toe the mark."

H. Clay Turner, of Mt. Sterling, was in town again Sunday. He passes through here every few days of late, but never seems to be in any hurry to get through.

Elder D. G. Combs preached the funeral of John McClure at this place last Sunday. A great number of people attended, had a good meeting and "dinner on the ground."

Married, last Wednesday at the residence of J. M. Pieratt, Asa Pieratt and Miss Mollie Howard, attendants Elmer Hays and Miss Anna Lou Pieratt, Rev. J. A. Howard officiating. The bride is very industrious, and in every way a most excellent lady, and the groom was a member of one of the best families on earth. The young couple have the good wishes of all who know them.

BLURT.

[The greater portion of this letter was crowded out this week, but will appear in our next.—Ed.]

West Liberty Wisp.

Court of Claims convened last week. John Dennis' wife is very sick with fever.

Med Olliver and Mrs. Rebecca Elam returned from a visit to Ezel last Sunday.

M. T. Womack and Hon. J. P. Salyer are attending court at Salyersville this week.

Henry M. Cox has gone to Johnson county to buy cattle for the Mt. Sterling market.

W. H. Manker has secured a position with the Power Grocery Co., of Paris, Ky., as traveling salesman.

Wallis, little son of J. H. Caraway, is almost able to set up. He has been sick for several weeks with fever.

Miss Sallie Hord, of Poplar Plains, is visiting friends here. She will go to Prestonsburg to teach a class in music. James H. Cox, colored, and Kendall Williams were fined $17.60 and $15.80, respectively, for running horses in the town.

C. D. Moore, drummer for Ben Williams & Co., hardware, is at home after a prolonged trip through Eastern Kentucky.

Mr. Jacobs, traveling man for A. L. Hooper & Co., queensware, Cincinnati, Ohio, was the guest of the Cecil House last Wednesday.

Street working is now in order. The boys had to bend their backs two days last week. There are 54 in town between the ages of 18 and 50.

Chas. M. Keyser, our enterprising boot and shoe drummer for C. P. Tracy & Co., of Portsmouth, Ohio, returned home last week from a month's trip up the Sandy Valley. He reports that trade is improving.

Jo M. Kendall, Democratic nominee for Congress in this District, arrived home Sunday. He says that he will carry Hopkins county (Pike). Jo's a hustler; he lets no grass grow under his feet. 'Rah for Kendall!

Movements of "Sight-See."

The following improvements and industrial enterprises were discovered to be in operation in Morgan county: Jerry Carpenter, who lives on Long Branch of Grassy Creek, is having a large two-story house built.

J. S. Nickell, of Jericho City, near Ezel, has one of the most beautiful and attractive locations that can be found in the mountains. He has greatly added to the beauty of his house by having a very handsome double portico built on the side of his house facing the road, and to add more to his comfort his wife is an excellent lady and a subscriber to THE HERALD. He has only one daughter, whose name is Minnie, and she is said to be the prettiest and most accomplished young lady of the county, and ere this finds its way in print she will doubtless be a happy bride, that is if signs don't fail.

It is a sight to see how the people are marrying in Morgan county. On Wednesday, October 3d, at the residence of J. M. Pieratt, of Ezel, Elder J. A. Howard joined in the holy bonds of matrimony Asa V. Pieratt and Miss Mollie Howard. There were several spectators present. Mr. Pieratt is a son of Frank Pieratt, one of Morgan's most prominent citizens, and his wife possesses all the virtues of a Christian lady, and will no doubt make him a loving and devoted wife. That they may live long and be happy is the sincere wish of "Sight-See."

The political pot in Morgan county is popping and snapping and appears a little funny. I don't know who is going to be elected, but if the election of Democrats is an honor, it is very likely that Wolfe county can join in with Morgan. In smacking their lips on the juice of a Democratic pie, as I think it is certainly in the bake-pot if the perfume does not deceive us.

From all that we can see and learn the religious state among the people is being much bettered. Preachers of different denominations are now calling for union meetings and hugging each other's doctrine with a stronger grip than ever before. The influence of Elder J. A. Howard, the Christian Union Evangelist of the mountains, must undoubtedly have a bearing towards bringing about this harmony and courtship between the religious sects. Elder Howard is now holding a series of meetings in Menefee county.

The funeral of Martin Robinson's wife will be preached at Tom's Branch on the second Sunday in October, at 11 o'clock, by Elder Howard and Rev. Jonee Adams, of West Liberty. A basket dinner will be served on the ground.

Miss Myrtle Woolery, one among the most beautiful and refined young ladies of Ezel, has recently returned home from Versailles, Woodford county, Ky., where she has been visiting for some time.

Your correspondent had the pleasure of meeting one of Eastern Kentucky's remarkable men a few days since. George Martin Hall, of Rowan county, was born in Fleming county in 1827, now being 67 years of age. He is the father of 14 children, 13 of whom are living. He is as healthy a looking man as I ever saw; never had a doctor for himself; is 6 feet tall. His wife is Elder J. M. Downing's own aunt. He has 70 grand children. He is a subscriber to THE HERALD. William Thomas Hall, his second son, is an able preacher of Christian Unity, and is greatly beloved by all who know him.

On my way to Menefee county I stopped and took dinner with Brack McQuinn, formerly of Breathitt county, but now owns a nice farm and is a resident of Menefee county. He has just completed a very nice two-story house. Brack is a hustler from the Eastern hills.

The fine grape eating I have along the road would entice or tempt any 'possum or coon that ever lived, but I am certain that no coon or 'possum ever loved grapes and pawpaws better than I do.

I traveled through the beautiful Beaver Valley, and the creek is a lovely stream. This is an exceedingly fertile valley, most of the farmers owning from 300 to 700 acres each. The white pebbles glittering on the shoals, the rock-reefed mountains, with pine, spruce and cedar here and there lined with clusters of the very finest 'possum grapes, naturally makes the scenery most beautiful and heart thrilling to all lovers of nature. The people are hospitable and generous, somewhat on the old style, but ever respectful, kind and accommodating.

Mr. Editor, you know that "old time religion" can be relished by your correspondent most heartily. There is a meeting now in progress on Leatherwood, conducted by Elders J. A. Howard and W. T. Hall, of Rowan county. Whether the devil will beat them I know not, but as a general thing they have the name of stirring up and rousing the dirty old chap wherever they go.

SIGHT-SEE.

A Wonderful Conqueror.

No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in swelling in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled, and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

Mrs. Judge Peck Tells How She Was Cured

Sufferers from Dyspepsia should read the following letter from Mrs. H. M. Peck, wife of Judge Peck, a justice at Tracy, Cal., and a writer connected with the Associated Press:

"By a deep sense of gratitude for the great benefit I have received from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, I have been led to write the following statement for the benefit of sufferers who may be similarly afflicted. For 15 years I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and Heart Trouble.

Almost everything I ate would distress me. I tried different treatments and medicines, but failed to realize relief. Two years ago a friend prevailed upon me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle I noticed helped me, so I continued taking it. It did me so much good that my friends spoke of the improvement. I have received such great benefit from it that
